RUDDING PARK GOLF

Yorkshire's leading fully inclusive golfing facility offers the keen golfer every opportunity to practise their game. This seven day a week facility is ideal not only for the fanatical golfer but also for those short on time or experience. Everyone is welcome.

The facilities:

Hawtree Course:

Designed by renowned golf architect, Martin Hawtree, this challenging 18 hole, par 72, course runs through the heart of Rudding Park's 18th century parkland.

Repton Short Course:

A stunning six hole, par 3 course, also designed by Martin Hawtree and created to USGA specifications. This is no easy test of your short game, and includes the 'island hole', our version of the notorious 17th at Sawgrass, Florida. The Repton Short Course can be played in an hour and is ideal as a warm up.

Academy:

The combination of the Academy hole, three different bunkers, the chipping green and the putting green enables practice of all elements of short play golf. Inside the Golf Academy, golfers skills can be honed using the latest technology including a putting laboratory, an Explanar launch monitor and video analysis. Lessons at the Academy are ideal for any beginners on your corporate or society day.

Driving Range:

Eighteen floodlit covered bays for the practice of all tee and fairway shots. Automatic power tees allow repeated practice of the same shots. Another great way to include novices in your day.

Professional Tuition:

Our team of resident PGA Professionals offer playing lessons, group coaching and corporate golf classes. A series of lessons are tailored to the individual using the extensive practice facilities and culminate in a round on the Repton Short Course.
